Background
The foundation for communication, critical thinking, problem solving, and teamwork—skills that employers cite as critical to workplace success—is largely developed by age five. High quality early learning opportunities, as well as early detection and treatment of childhood developmental and behavioral challenges, are essential for children’s development and later success in school and life. $1 invested in programs for low-income children can yield $4-$9 in returns to society.

Adults who received high quality early education as children are:

- 53% less likely to have an arrest
- 18% more likely to be employed
- 24% more likely to own a home
- More likely to have higher earnings

Increase Per Pupil Funding
Support an increase in per-pupil funding through the Florida Education Finance Program (FEFP), allowing Florida school districts to be competitive nationwide. These funds support basic K-12 programs, Exceptional Student Programs for handicapped and/or gifted students, bullying and suicide prevention, after school programs, class size reduction, transportation, classroom materials and supplies. Currently, the national average is approximately $12,578, while in Florida the average is only $7,408.

Voluntary Prekindergarten Education Program (VPK)
Florida’s VPK is a free educational program that prepares 4-year-olds for kindergarten and beyond. Improving accountability through coordinated and developmentally appropriate assessments through kindergarten will improve quality and reduce the readiness gap.

After School Programs
Among Florida’s K-12 students, approximately 1,031,509 children are waiting for an available program. This leads to 541,481 students who are left alone and unsupervised after school. The need for after school programs far exceeds the available funding. The benefits of after school programs are widely shown to increase social skills, community engagement and learning.

Proposed Changes
- Improve VPK by implementing a coordinated child assessment system to better understand child development.
- Support an increase in per pupil funding through the Florida Education Finance Program (FEFP), allowing Florida school districts to be competitive nationwide.
- Expand access to After School programs for at-risk children by increasing funding to the Department of Education.
