COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIP SCHOOLS™

Improving the success of students, families, and their community through on-site collaborations at neighborhood schools

"A 'community school' is both a physical place as well as a set of partnerships between a school and other community resources."

— Coalition for Community Schools, Washington, D.C.

The development of Gulfstream Academy K-8 as a Community Partnership School is supported by the following six core partners:

- Broward County Public Schools
- Memorial Healthcare System
- Broward College
- United Way of Broward County
- Hispanic Unity of Florida
- Early Learning Coalition of Broward County

The Community Partnership School (CPS) at Gulfstream Academy serves the low-income community surrounding three public schools: Gulfstream Early Learning Center, Gulfstream Academy, and South Broward Montessori Charter School.

By free and reduced-price lunch (FRL) status, at least 1,500 school-aged children in the target area come from low-income families. These students include 75 CPS students registered with the Homeless Education Assistance Resource Team (HEART) Program due to a lack of fixed, regular or adequate nighttime housing.

Why Community Partnership Schools?

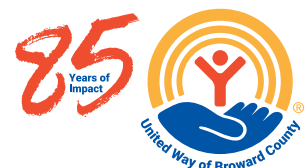

Before the pandemic, United Way of Broward County partnered with Gulfstream Academy and other community providers to bring a variety of supports for students and their families onto the school campus. The partnership endeavors to connect these primarily ALICE (Asset Limited, Income Constrained, Employed) families to the tools they need for holistic health and stability. This year, we are expanding the partnership to include family-strengthening classes, tax preparation services, a school uniform closet, intergenerational nutrition workshops, mindfulness training, local food pantry registration, free laundry services, peace garden, and much more.

THEIR OWN WORDS...

"Thank you for assistance and your time. It was so nice to sit here with you. The resources will really help. Can I give you a hug?" — A mom experiencing homelessness after an intake session

"Thank you for the spirit of service you bring to our campus." — Administrator

"I love the warm welcome at the Family Resource Center! Thanks for taking care of the kids and families we refer." — Teacher

COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIP SCHOOLS™

Improving the success of students, families, and their community through on-site collaborations at neighborhood schools

How We Are Changing Lives

The Gulfstream Community Partnership School has provided:

- $13,925 worth of new uniforms
- $29,950 worth of new backpacks and school supplies
- 245 no-cost vision screenings, and students in need received free prescription eyewear as well
- 120,032 pounds of fresh produce and shelf-stable food

HOW YOU CAN HELP

The Community Partnership School is currently offered in Hallandale Beach to support at least 1,500 students and their families. 62% of residents in this area are Asset-Limited, Income-Constrained, and Employed (ALICE) while 89% of their students qualify for free or reduced-price lunch. United Way of Broward County endeavors to support additional community schools. More dollars are needed to expand the program throughout Broward County and to ensure every child has a chance.

You can help expand the Community Partnership School program across Broward County.

Your contribution will help United Way of Broward County reach its goal of ensuring every child is given the chance to succeed.

- $500 Local college tour for middle school students
- $250 Location rental for afterhours programming
- $150 Workbook set for extended learning groups
- $100 Clinical referral for mental health counseling
- $50 Grocery gift card for families
- $25 New uniform set
- $12 Duffel bag for clean laundry
